7 Persons Killed as Tornadoes Hit Three States

DRUMRIGHT, Okla. (AP) — A rash of tornadoes struck two dozen towns in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri overnight, killing at least seven.

The most furious twister hit Drumright, leaving five dead and a hundred houses smashed in this town of 5,000 about 40 miles southwest of Tulsa.

Two were killed in southeast Kansas, where weather observers said they had reports on 14 tornadoes.

Four twisting funnels hit the extreme southwest corner of Misouri, with police reporting two persons injured and $100,000 worth of damage at Joplin.

The twisters were spawned by a severe Midwest storm that started in Colorado yesterday. The Kansas City Weather Bureau reported at 10 a.m. today that the storm was moving slowly northward out of extreme northeast Nebraska this morning. It carried with it a heavy snow area that was shifting from central Nebraska through the central Dakotas toward northwest Minnesota.

The bureau said winds were high over a wide area and dust was riding on winds of 30 to 40 miles per hour. Wind gusts up to 50 miles an hour were forecast through Missouri this afternoon.

Two to 3 inches of snow has been reported in northwest Kansas and up to 6 inches in the vicinity of North Platte, Neb. The bureau forecast 4 to 8 inches of new snow northward through the Dakotas into Minnesota. Heavy local rains were reported from central Oklahoma through east central Kansas and eastern Nebraska.

The Oklahoma casualty list, along a path from Drumright to Miami in the northeast corner of the state, included 50 injured.

Four members of the C.V. Bevel family were killed in Drumright — Bevel, his wife, and two daughters, Gloria Jean 17, and Virginia, 18.

A teen-age son, at a movie when the storm hit, is the only survivor. Mrs. Elmer Weavere, 81, died later in a hospital.

Mrs. Ethel Whited, about 70, was killed by the twister which hit just south of Grenola, Kan. Another splintered the home of E. E. Reek near Toronto, Kan., killing Reek and blowing his wife and daughter out of the house. They were not injured seriously.

A dozen were hurt in the storm which hit Miami, Okla., and wrecked a four-block area.

Lesser twisters were reported at Hopeton, Sneeders, near Pond Creek, Davenport, Jacktown, on the edge of Tulsa, and Freedom, all in Oklahoma.

A tornado also was reported in the small community of Sobel in Pushertha County of Southeastern Oklahoma.

The tornado struck about midnight and two persons were injured, none believed serious. One was identified as Virgil Coburn.

Two homes and a 3-room frame school were destroyed and a church damaged by the twister. Power lines were down in the area.

The Oklahoma Highway Department, which sent a disaster crew to Sobel, said that many roads in the county were blocked by uprooted trees and wrecked power lines. Residents of nearby Antlers, county seat of Pushertha County, were frightened by the storm which brought light rain. The city suffered 26 dead and millions of dollars worth of damage when a tornado ripped through the town in 1945.

Miami Fire Chief J. R. Huxhall said the funnel hop-scotched over

Jones to Run for Position of Auditor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Land Commissioner Jimmy (Red) Jones today filed as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state auditor.

Jones is seeking to fill the post held for many years by J. Oscar Humphrey, who died Saturday.

Gov. Orval Faubus has appointed F. Nolan Humphrey to fill his father's unexpired term. The younger Humphrey is not eligible to succeed himself.

Jones, a 35-year-old bachelor from Magnolia, was appointed land commissioner by former Gov. Francis Cherry to fill the unexpired term of the late Claude Rankin. Rankin died in 1954 shortly after taking the oath of office for a new term as land commissioner.

Jones' appointment by Cherry subsequently was upheld by the Arkansas Supreme Court following an attempt by Gov. Faubus to appoint Rankin's widow to the post.

Jones is not eligible to succeed himself.

Jones formerly served as Columbia County tax collector.

Rev. Robert Hyatt to Conduct Church Services Here

Rev. Robert Hyatt will conduct the Midweek Service at the Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening at seven-thirty. The Service will be held in the Chapel.

Mr. Hyatt is a member of the local Presbyterian Church. He has had two years of work at the Union Theological Seminary of Richmond, Va. He is spending the present school year at the University of Arkansas and expects to receive his master's degree there this summer. He will return to Union Seminary in the fall and will graduate there after another year's work.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend this Midweek Service.

Highway Funds Diverted to Other Channels

LITTLE ROCK (Special) — In the highway bond year which closed March 31, state gasoline tax and motor vehicle fee collections produced a record total $4,089,961 of which only $24,293,352 went into the Highway Department Fund for administration, maintenance and construction, the Department's Division of Statistics and Analyses reported today.

The gross was $3,249,191 more than in the 1954-55 bond year, and the Department netted $2,825,962 more. Each year, since the end of World War II, gasoline rationing has seen a new highway users tax record established.

The bond year, which begins April 1, was established under the 1941 Refunding Act which set up allocations to which the revenues are assigned. Beginning this month, another round of allotments will be started, with debt service and maintenance having first call after monthly accruals by the General Revenue Fund, County turnback of gas tax and the State Police weighing crews.

A 1949 act which authorized new highway bonds altered the 1944 allocations schedule so as to add $6,500,000 annually to the sum diverted from construction and maintenance. However, about $1,250,000 of this comes back to the Highway Department Fund from the unused residue in the amount set aside for Gasoline Tax Refund funds of 4½ cents per gallon for fuel used in farm machinery.

Without the 1949 act's changes, the Highway Department in the 1955-56 bond year would have realized $30,749,352 from the $4,089,961 gross collections.

Each year $2,500,000 is placed in the Gasoline Tax Refund Fund. After claims, which have been approximating $600,000 a year have been paid, the balance (except for a $1,000,000 reserve) is divided between the Highway Department Fund and the Municipal Aid Fund. The latter is limited to $625,000; the rest goes to the Highway Department Fund. Last year this augmented the amount available for construction by $1,277,480.

Thus, during the bond year, the Highway Department Fund received from state taxes $25,526,800, including the net from the current income and the recovery from the Gas Tax Refunds account.

During March, the collections grossed $2,709,751, compared with $2,724,026 in March 1955. In addition $12,410 was received for overload permits. All the net, after the required deductions, was credited to the Highway Department Fund April 1. This added $2,406,558 to the balance in the Treasury.

Blinding Dust Storms Spread Over Southwest

DALLAS (AP) — A blinding dust storm that some old-timers said was the worst they could remember whipped across Southwestern states yesterday, demolishing small buildings and killing at least three persons.

Driven by winds that ranged up to 80 miles per hour, the dust storm engulfed portions of New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma centered its main force in west Texas, where visibility dropped to zero at many points.

Midland, Big Spring, Childress, Pecos and Abilene were among west Texas cities reporting "zero-zero" conditions during the worst of the storms. Street lights were turned on and automobiles, with headlights on, inched their way through the choking curtain of dust.

Big Spring Herald Editor Joe Pickle called it the "grandfather of dust storms" and said if "got dark as night" there. Editor Lon Pace of the Haskell Enterprise, who has lived in Haskell since 1910, said it was the worst dust storm he could remember, including those of the Dust Bowl days in the 1930s.

The three deaths were due to the traffic crashes in the blinding dust. Isham H. Hardin, 59, and his nephew Bill Hardin, 40, both of Lubbock, were killed in a car collision near Odessa. Jack Caro, 52, Spearman, was killed when his butane truck hit a culvert.

At Pecos 10 teen-agers were hospitalized after a two-car crash, and five persons were injured in a seven-car pileup west of Wildcat.

The high winds blew down the four walls of a partially completed building at Morton, smashed plate glass windows in Lubbock, demolished small buildings as Aspermont and Snyder, and disrupted power and communication services at Big Spring for 45 minutes.

Airplanes were grounded in most of west Texas and buses ran hours behind schedule.

Thinks Arming Israel Would Bring Stability

By DONALD J. GONZALES
WASHINGTON, (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today that the shipment of arms to Israel by some Western powers other than the United States might contribute to stability in the Middle East.

Dulles at the same time told a news conference that there has been no change in the U.S. policy against the sale of U.S. arms to Israel at the present time. This, despite the almost-daily appeals of Israel for jet planes and other modern weapons.

Administration officials said yesterday that Mr. Eisenhower last week had decided against selling arms to Israel at this time. Dulles took no issue with this. In response to questions, he indicated the situation is right where it has been for months.

He said the United States has not made any affirmative decision on the arms request nor has it been turned down finally.

Dulles said that if ever becomes apparent it would be advisable to use American troops to help keep peace in the Middle East. The President would first seek congressional approval — providing there was sufficient time.

In making that statement, the secretary emphasized that he does not know now of any pending emergency which would require sending U.S. troops to the area.

'Stagg Fears Purdue' Also Used in Politics — Candidates Now Seek Role of Underdog

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Some recent bulletins from the presidential campaign indicate that the new thing in political technique is what you might call the "Stagg Fears Purdue" strategy.

In this classic maneuver, you fight hard for the role of the underdog.

For instance, after the Minnesota primary, Adlai Stevenson said his defeat there showed plainly that he was not out in front in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination. He would have to struggle harder, etc.

And then Chicago would beat Purdue 40 to 0 again.

In time, this became standard operating procedure for cachers.

For example, Gilmour Dobie, of Cornell, became "Gloomy Gill" to the football writers. And during the years when Andy Smith's California teams were terrorizing the Pacific Coast, you could never get him to concede they might

Woman Saves Son's Life

MALIBU, Calif. (UPI) — Former movie actress Molly O'Day is credited by sheriff's officers with saving the life of her 11-year-old son, John A. Duran, who was caught in the cave-in of a sandpit on the beach.

The boy and a friend, John Roberts, also 11, dug a hole in the sand. When it collapsed and buried Duran, Roberts ran to get Miss O'Day. She summoned officers, then dug in the sand and uncovered her son's head before help came. The boy was treated for shock and a sprained shoulder.

Angry Farmers Give Up Their Milk Blockade

Detroit (UP) — Rebel dairy farmers, beset by court injunctions and police convoys which took milk transports through their picket lines, today gave up their activities aimed at choking off Detroit's milk supply and bringing them higher prices for milk.

Roland S. Brengle, head of the Fair Share Bargaining association which has been trying to prevent milk shipments into Detroit for nine days, ordered members of his group to take down their picket lines.

He said the group would stop picketing "pending the outcome" of a session between his group, Detroit milk dealers and the state labor mediation board.

The effectiveness of the picket lines had been nullified however by court injunctions and police convoys which guarded milk trucks speeding along the highways into Detroit from the roving bands of pickets which were bent on dumping milk from trucks trying to break through into Detroit.

Brengle ordered all picket lines removed at 1 p.m. ST.

The group gave up its strike after it became apparent they had been unsuccessful in choking off the city's milk supply.

DETROIT (UP) — State police, non-strikers and court orders alarmed striking dairy farmers today and restored Detroit's flow of milk to about 75 per cent of normal.

But angry pickets in scattered rural areas promised more violence in an attempt to cut off the precious fluid to the nation's fifth largest city and win higher prices for their milk.

The striking Fair Share Bargaining Association (FSBA) was dealt two critical blows when its milk blockade was smashed in two areas. Convoys escorted by police and backed up by hundreds of militant non-striking farmers rolled into Detroit, easing the situation.

Loaded milk tankers also sped toward the city from Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin, permitting local health authorities to abandon plans for emergency rationing.

The rebellion touched off threats of similar action in at least four other states. The Rev. John W. Dornoy, executive secretary of the Tri-state Master Dairy Guild, told strikers their battle was a forerunner of one that would develop soon in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

He said farmers there would demand $6 per hundredweight as does the FSBA, a splinter group of the Michigan Milk Producers association (MMPA) which has settled for $5 per hundredweight.

The old price was $4.41.

John Brown, Ashtabula, Ohio, chairman of a group of dairy farmers in northwestern Ohio, said a strike also was likely there unless similar price increases were granted. He said farmers would meet tonight in Bloomfield, O., to consider action.

While the situation eased in Detroit, tension mounted in outlying areas where FSBA pickets set up thousands of gallons of milk and hundreds of pieces of equipment during the early days of the eight-day strike.

Farmer paired off against farmer at tiny Ovid in central Michigan. Strikers, outnumbered five to two by non-striking farmers, prepared to do battle when a state police corporal stepped into the breach.

Daniel Bobo, one of 25 troopers sent to maintain peace in the community of 1,200 grabbed three of an estimated 200 strikers guarding six milk tankers. He raced a mile to where 500 non-striking farmers were gathered to show the strikers that the non-strikers were well-organized. The non-strikers were well-organized. The non-strikers were well-organized.

The young Humphrey was appointed to serve out the term of his father by Gov. Orval Faubus yesterday. As a gubernatorial appointee, he can not succeed himself. His father's term ends January 1.

Humphrey, 70, died Saturday after holding the auditor's post longer than any man in the state's history. He first was elected in 1928. Funeral services were held here yesterday. Among those attending were Gov. Faubus, Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon, and Secretary of State C. H. Hall.

The new auditor, 37, has worked in the office several years.

Dust, Wind, Rain and Hail Hit Arkansas

By The Associated Press
Dust, wind, rain and hail hit Arkansas today as a cold front moved eastward through the state.

A storm, described as a tornado, struck an area west of Plainview and Ola. Several buildings were damaged or destroyed. No one was hurt.

Gilbert reported a 10-minute rain and hail storm. There was no immediate report of damage.

Scattered showers fell throughout the state during the past 24 hours.

Several points reported reduced visibility. Dust spilled into Arkansas from a Texas dust storm, limiting visibility to two miles at Texarkana, three miles at Fort Smith and four miles at Little Rock.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said temperatures tonight would average about 25 degrees cooler than last night.

Last night's minimum readings ranged from 61 degrees at Fort Smith to 72 at Little Rock and El Dorado.

The forecast called for temperatures tonight in the 30s in north Arkansas and in the 40s in other portions of the state.

The outlook through tomorrow is by slow rising trend. Little change have an edge on smaller foes. This was the crying-towel technique. But in politics, the approach has always been just the reverse. The candidate himself, and everybody in his organization, usually contends that everything is easy, and that the election is in the bag. The idea is always reflect sunny optimism, and ooze confidence.

This is particularly true in the preconvention maneuvering. But today, neither Stevenson nor Kefauver seems to want to be the favorite. One has downgraded his outlook and the other stoutly asserts that he is running "behind" at the moment. Both apparently are angling for the advantage that accrues to the underdog.

If things go on in this way, it is easy to picture Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall saying: "Well, boys, I don't see how we

The Highway Department began the 1955-57 bond year with $17,294,438 in the Treasury. This was slightly over the balance at the same time a year ago when it was $17,284,342.

Part of the Highway Department's construction money comes as reimbursement from the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads. Federal aid is being earned at the rate of about $10,000,000 annually. State and federal sources combined give the Department about $35,000,000 each year.

From gasoline tax the yield was $33,025,789; from motor vehicle license fees $11,077,170.

Deductions for the county turnback from the gas tax, for the State Police and for the General Revenue Fund (3 per cent collection charge) took $5,415,609, of which $1,303,708 went into the General Revenue Fund for support of general governmental functions.

The gas tax turnback to counties totaled $3,684,435, but that was only part of the County aid that came out of the highway user revenues allocations of $275,000 and $2,000,000 brought the aggregate of County Aid to $6,059,435.

In contrast, the Municipal Aid Fund got only $1,000,000, of which $625,000 represented the cities' part of the Gas Tax Refund Fund residue.

Debt service took $9,175,000 although about a half million dollars of that was not needed for current maturities. This surplus is not made available to the Highway Department. Instead it is accumulated for purchase of bonds on tenders prior to maturity, generally at a premium.

The only other participant in the highway revenues is the State Police. Under a 1953 act for support of weighing crews, $428,468 was deducted for credit to the State Police Fund prior to division of the highway money in compliance with the 1941 Refunding Act and the statutes amending it.

Wisconsin Voters to Pick Delegates

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin's normally Democratic industrial centers turned out in strength for early voting today in the presidential preference primary that may indicate the comparative strength of President Eisenhower and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.)

And unusually warm, showy spring weather—the kind that traditionally brings out the vote in rural republican strongholds—spread over the state to prepare the way for what might be a seamer overall turnout than pre-election estimates.

The voters choose 30 Republican delegates to the Republican National Convention and the 28 Democratic votes to that party's convention. But that was of comparatively minor importance.

There was no question that states for Eisenhower and Kefauver would win.

The big question was: How will Eisenhower fare in a popularity test that might have a vital effect on the candidacy of Kefauver?

Kefauver issued a challenge to Eisenhower late yesterday. He ignited Republicans, particularly farmers, to register their protest against what he termed the "sorry performance in office of the present administration."

Kefauver's slate of 56 candidates—each with half a vote in the convention—is without opposition. A slate pledged to Eisenhower has opposition only from a favorite son candidate, John Chapple, Ashland editor, who is against the administration's foreign policy.

There is no party registration in Wisconsin, so voters may vote in either the Republican or Democratic primaries as they choose.

Calls for Law to Punish Subversives

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va), author of the Smith Anti-subversives Act, called today for a law to allow state prosecution of persons who seek violent overthrow of the government.

The hostess served a lovely dessert plate to 23 members present.

"Twenty Danger Signals of Disease" was the topic of a discussion given by Mrs. Carl E. Richards, Jr., health leader, when the Centerville Home Demonstration Club met March 28 in the home of Mrs. Hugh Bearden.

Mrs. Vernie Goynes gave a demonstration on how to hang clothes on the line to make for easier ironing.

Mrs. John McRoy, president, presided over the business session. Mrs. Sid Skinner and Mrs. Vernie Goynes were elected to represent the club in the Civil Defense Program. Roll call was answered by each member giving "My biggest health problem."

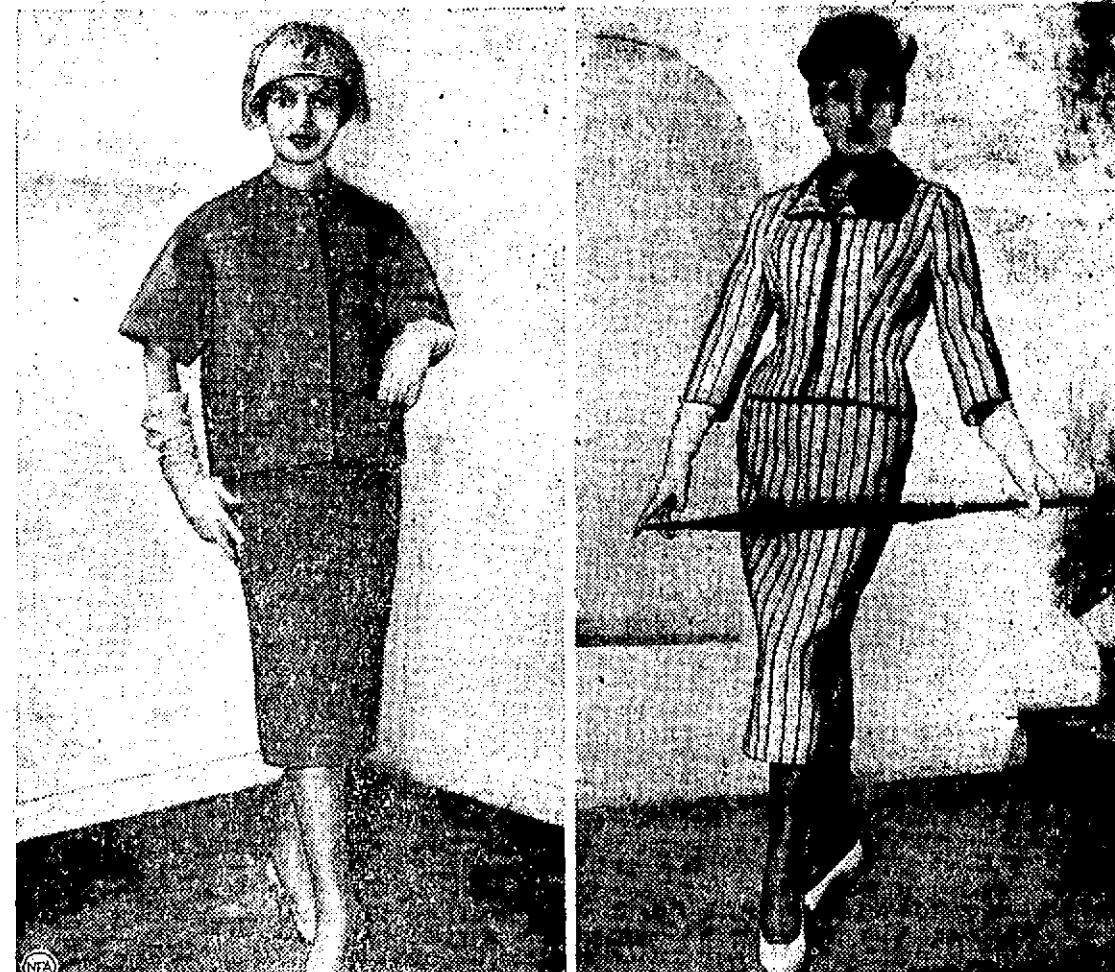

"Her Best for Jesus," Mr. John J. 11, was the devotional given by the hostess.

Members of the club brought clothing to send to the Arkansas State Hospital. It was decided to send a box every two months.

Refreshments were served to 15 members and 8 visitors.

The April meeting will be in the home of Mrs. P. F. Campbell.

DOROTHY DIX

Give Up Long-Range Ideas On a Man You Have Yet to Meet

Dear Miss Dix: Would you be kind enough to give a widow of 53 some friendly advice? My family of nine is pretty much on its own and I'm lonely. Now I have met a very nice man. Although he hasn't asked me out, I see him every morning on my way to work. Sometimes he speaks and other times he does not. Do you Should I wait and see, or try to forget him?

D. M.

Answer: Love that can laugh at locksmiths, topple thrones and restore them is an emotion so strong so unpredictable, that I wouldn't presume to say anything concerning it was impossible. The object of your affections may yet respond to your strong desire to know him. However, in all honesty it seems very unlikely that his apparent indifference up to this point would change to interest and affection.

Since you only see him, you can scarcely even say truthfully that you've met him. You know nothing of his domestic situation, nothing of his character, his business or habits. On such a flimsy foundation, I think it best for you to give up long range ideas about this man, and concentrate on widening your present friendship circle.

Bob Smith and Rep. Velde of Illinois, senior Republican on the House Committee on Un-American Activities, voiced disappointment at yesterday's Supreme Court decision which voided the conviction of Steve Nelson, a veteran Communist leader in the Pittsburgh area, under a Pennsylvania anti-sedition law.

The court's 6-3 decision nullified sedition laws in 42 states, Alaska and Hawaii.

The ruling had no effect on a separate conviction against Nelson under the federal Smith Act, which prohibits knowing advocacy of the overthrow of the government by force and violence. The high court has agreed to hear arguments next fall on Nelson's appeal in this case. Meanwhile, he is free on bond.

GRACE D.

Answer: Your beau, being an alert youth, probably saw the coming unattractions — to wit, that you're cut out to be a nagger, and any man who wants peace should run like the dickens from you. A girl can come up with no more unpleasant habit than cross-examination. A good newspaper story traditionally tells in its first paragraph who, what, when, where and how. A girl who starts out with these questions will never get farther than the first paragraph in any boy's story. Ponder and learn, Grace.

MRS. A. C.

Answer: Let me warn you right off that you're pursuing an expensive hobby. Your best bet is to join a flying club. There is most likely one to be found at our local airfield. Learn first, then explore the possibilities of using your ability. Good luck, and good flying.

Dear Miss Dix: I am very much interested in learning to fly, with the possible change of making the knowledge useful. Can you give suggestions I have two small children so my time is limited.

AGNES T.

Answer: Let me warn you right off that you're pursuing an expensive hobby. Your best bet is to join a flying club. There is most likely one to be found at our local airfield. Learn first, then explore the possibilities of using your ability. Good luck, and good flying.

Dear Miss Dix: I am in love with Bill, who has been going steady with Janice for three years. Janice is always flirting with other guys, so I know my love for Bill is stronger than hers. He has told me that he'll go with me if he ever breaks up with Janice, as he still loves her best. Will it pay me to wait?

AGNES T.

Answer: Why should an attractive teen-ager be satisfied with such a sorry arrangement? Your Bill isn't worth the consideration of one nice girl, let alone two.

What has you so bewitched? Curly hair, dazzling smile, athletic form? All this has a hard time filling the bread box on pay day.

The things you want in a husband are the things you should look for in a boy friend, even at your tender age. Consideration — Bill has none, or he wouldn't keep two girls dangling; honesty — obviously Bill lacks even the vestige of that; loyalty — against look at the record; steadfastness — Bill is as dependable as April weather. Give yourself a break. Tell Bill to walk west tell his that floats and get yourself a new and reliable beau.

Members of the club brought clothing to send to the Arkansas State Hospital. It was decided to send a box every two months.

Refreshments were served to 15 members and 8 visitors.

Navy's Snark Makes 2,000 Mile Test

By JOHN W. FINNEY

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Navy announced today that it now is equipping some of its patrol planes with a new guided missile which automatically searches out and destroys enemy ships at long ranges.

The announcement came only hours after informed sources disclosed that the Air Force's Snark, a winged pilotless bomber, had recently made a 2,000-mile, record-making flight over the Caribbean sea.

The new Navy missile, known as the Petrel, is designed to be launched by patrol planes well out of range of the anti-aircraft batteries of enemy ships.

Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corp., producer of the weapon, recently referred to it as an air-to-underwater missile. This suggests, although the Navy did not say so, that the Petrel may be used against submarines as well as surface ships.

The Navy said the Petrel fills out the Navy's family of missiles for operational fleet use and gives the Navy four missile delivery capabilities. The other three are: the Sparrow, air-to-air; Regulus — surface-to-surface; and

CHILD HEALTH DAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today designated May 1 as Child Health Day.

In a proclamation, the President urged that the occasion be observed by "dedicating ourselves anew to the task of promoting the spiritual, emotional and physical well-being of children."

He said it is fitting that the health and welfare of children be fostered "in order that they may grow into responsible citizens and may contribute to the peace and productivity of the world."

Terrier—surface-to-air.

Navy said use of the new missile will spare pilots from anti-aircraft hazards which confronted aviators in World War II when the closed on target.

Rear Adm. F. S. Wittington, chief of the bureau of Ordnance, said the Petrel is one of the Navy's more complex missiles both electronically and dynamically.

He explained it was essential to design an intricate electronic brain for Petrel since the missile must "think" its own evasive way to the target.

The Navy said the Petrel fills out the Navy's family of missiles for operational fleet use and gives the Navy four missile delivery capabilities.

The

Congress Has No New Civil Rights Laws

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both the Democratic and Republican party leaders of 1952 promised new civil rights laws. Neither party has produced. Both have had opportunity to do so.

The Republicans, as a result of the 1952 elections, controlled Congress in 1953 and 1954. The Democrats, by winning the 1954 elections, have controlled Congress since the beginning of 1955. Neither passed any civil rights legislation.

The Eisenhower administration has talked since 1953 of civil rights laws but so far has sent no specific recommendations to Congress. It may do so shortly after Congress returns from its Easter vacation.

No matter what is proposed, and no matter by whom, inside or outside Congress, this Congress like those before it is not likely to pass any new civil rights laws. The reason is simple: the Southern Democrats will block them.

The House, with the votes of many Republicans and Northern Democrats, may pass some civil rights bills before Congress goes home this summer, over the Southern Democratic protests.

In the House, where debate is limited, the Southerners, being outnumbered, can kill a bill with a cloture motion. Nothing adopted by the House can become law unless the Senate debate is unlimited. There, cutaneous Southern Democrats can filibuster to death any civil rights legislation passed by the House.

That has been the story in Congress for years.

Both parties, at their 1956 conventions, will probably promise in their platforms civil rights laws in the next four years, and probably with about as much success as in the past.

Civil rights actions under the Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower administrations have been the result of presidential orders where government agencies, installations or contracts were concerned, or Supreme Court rulings for the nation as a whole.

Chapter XXXII
Their cell couldn't have held 40 men properly. It contained 90 "Greek saboteurs." There were no bunks, no heat, no toilet facilities, no water. Only stone and bars. The other "saboteurs" ranged from a boy of 10 who had stolen a carton of cigarettes to a man of 80 who had stolen a loaf of bread. Lice swarmed everywhere. Mammal rats roamed.

Each morning dead men were pulled from the tank.

From one of the two small windows Mike could look down into the center courtyard of Averof. Twenty-four hours a day terrible torture sessions went on. Each dawn a firing squad eliminated another batch of "saboteurs" — men who stood shivering against the gray stone wall. Each dawn the guard Hans would select some "saboteur" from Mike's tank for execution. He would line up all the prisoners in the corridor and taunt them as he limped up and down the line, an insane smirk on his face.

On the fourth morning, Elpis was dragged to the stone wall in the courtyard. Her screams were feeble but they still reached her husband's ears. They strapped her to a post. And the firing squad lined up.

Ben and Mike kept a suicide

one to make lynching a federal offense and another an omnibus bill containing a number of civil rights protections—and has asked the full committee to approve.

The bills may get stymied there. If they get out, and are passed by the full House, they still face the Senate roadblock.

President Eisenhower has urged Congress to establish a special commission on civil rights. He suggested this be a bipartisan racial commission with subpoena powers. Most Southern Democrats are chilly about it.

Over the weekend Eisenhower indicated that if Congress doesn't act on his idea, he may do something on his own, perhaps considering a proposal by Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida.

Collins suggested Eisenhower call a conference of Southern governors and attorneys general to review the South's present problems in the whole field of racial relations."

don't get recaptured." Colonel Oberg went away.

Mike told Axiots he would pay 100,000 drachmas to deliver a note. "But, Jay," Ben said, "you don't have to pay that for one simple message."

"I've got to get it out tonight."

Axiots nodded. A grin broke out on the ancient jailer's face as he pocketed the money. He was told that a return message would bring another reward. The note was addressed to Lazarus, a truck farmer in Chalandri, with instructions to get the message to Lisa immediately. It read:

"Helena I am in Averof. Tomorrow I am to be taken to Gestapo for questioning. Vassili.

Heilser's face tightened. He was in serious trouble now. Von Ribbentrop had certainly selected the worst possible time for a visit to Greece. British escapees were roaming all over the country and resistance was increasing daily.

Just how many documents had already been stolen from the Germans would be known when and if Morrison made his escape and contacted the British. Konrad Haisser sat on a powder keg and the fuse grew short.

He gulped a sedative and rubbed his throbbing temples. The old self-respect was shattered now.

If only he could lay hands on Morrison and learn the names of the Stergiou list, it would throw the entire Underground into a panic.

He sank into a chair behind his marble-top desk and mixed another sedative.

"A disc jockey has an important role, and to many D.J.'s are failing to live up to it. A Disc Jockey should be a musical editor. While he has to cater to public taste to a point he also has a duty to cultivate public taste in music. He's as important as a schoolteacher."

"Rock 'n' roll is a perversion of rhythm in blues. Its beat is all that matters. Just beat and a honky sax . . .

"A disc jockey could accomplish it in a few months. The trouble with a lot of them is that they're musically ignorant. They're staff announcers who are assigned to the job of being D.J.s. They do the best they can, but all a lot of them do is keep playing the death."

"Only that nuisance, Ben Masterton. I wish he'd make one of his escapes good."

"The other?"

Heilser looked at the preliminary report. "New Zealander named Linden — Jay Linden. We have no records on him."

(To Be Continued)

"I'll bet he did!"

Oberg looked angry at first, then sighed in disgust. He turned to his clerk. "See that Herr Masterton and his friend are taken to Gestapo tomorrow and sent over to the P.O.W. compound on return."

"Thanks, matey."

Masterton, do me a favor. The next time you escape — please

Iris Club Organized Back in 1940

The Hope Iris Garden Club was organized in June 1940 for the purpose of stimulating the love and knowledge of gardening.

Our permanent project has been landscaping and maintaining the Julia Chester Hospital grounds.

Since Hope has a new County Hospital and Julia Chester Hospital is no longer in operation, the club has taken as their project the landscaping of the west side of Oglesby School building.

The Club also decorates a Christmas tree for the hospital, to help bring a little cheer to the patients at Christmas time. We have helped with the landscaping of the grounds of the new Governors Mansion and with buying books for the library. This year the club has given 100% per member to the permanent Home Building Fund for the erection of a building in St. Louis.

The first president of the Iris Garden Club was Mrs. M. M. McClaughlin and the succeeding presidents have been Mrs. Fred White, Mrs. A. A. Halbert, Mrs. C. P. Tolleson, Mrs. Herbert Burns, Mrs. Paul Railey, Mrs. Lahroy Spates, Mrs. E. O. Wingfield, Mrs. A. A. Albritton and the present president now, Mrs. A. W. Martin. The other officers are, Mrs. Waddie Cunningham, vice-president; Mrs. Dan Blake secretary; Mrs. C. M. Agee, Treasurer; Mrs. W. I. Stroud, Historian. Other members are, Mrs. A. A. In our endeavor to stimulate the love and knowledge of gardening we have had outstanding programs on horticulture, flower arranging, bird life, conservation, flower show schools and many others. We feel too, our flower shows we have had as an individual club and in cooperation with the other clubs have gone far in promoting our interest in gardening and in giving pleasure to the people of Hope and surrounding communities.

We are doing Junior Garden Club work with the third and fourth grades of Oglesby School. At this time they are making bird posters to be shown at the State Federation meeting in Hot Springs in May.

Some of our members have met with the more recently organized clubs to help them with their garden club work.

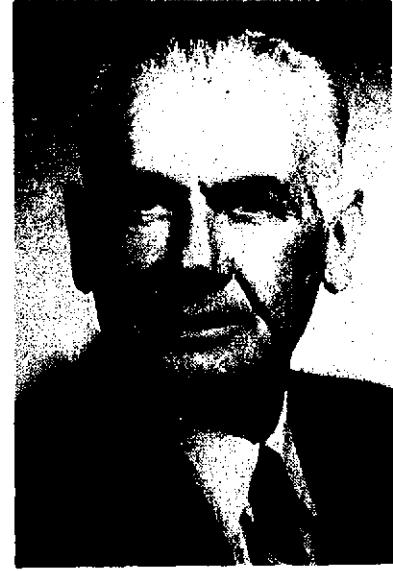

East but not least by any means, is the pleasure we derive from our association with each other and the exchange of ideas and plants. The work we do is a joy and inspiration that we eagerly look forward to. Signed Mrs. A. W. Martin, president of Hope Iris Garden Club.

Rose Garden Club Formed 17 Years Ago

The Rose Garden Club was organized June 12th, 1939 and federated in 1941. The club now has three charter members still active in the club and a total membership of 24 active members.

Meeting day is the first Friday in each month and they have never missed a regular meeting.

The club has won many ribbons in local flower shows and has participated in fourteen flower shows. Members of the club have visited numbers of Flower Shows in neighboring towns and have been represented in every Flower Show School in Hope. The club has participated in all local flower shows and a member from our club represented Hope in Little Rock in 1955.

We have organized two Junior Garden Clubs and at present the Rose Bud Junior Garden Club of Paisley School is quite active and under excellent leadership.

The Rose Garden Club has contributed to all calls from State Federation. Our programs follow the line outlined by the State Federation.

The Club has beautified several spots in town cemetery and city park. Books have been contributed to City Library in memory of departed members and to the Tuberculosis Sanatorium in Booneville.

We have eight past Presidents and the ninth President is now serving.

Spring Flowers Give Easter a Beauty Bonnet

The city of Hope was beautiful Easter week end. It seemed that nature had put on a new spring bonnet when the handsome old trees which line most of our streets put out their tender new leaves.

She had used a "shocking pink" lipstick in bordering most of the flower beds with pink moss or thrift.

One of the most beautiful spots of color in town is the azalea planting around the home of Miss Elizabeth Bridewell. There a multi-colored bed of azaleas is accented by a flowering cherry tree and beds of late blooming daffodils bordered by thrift. Next door the yard of Mrs. Bert Keith, and across the street the yards of Mrs. Mac Cargile and Mr. and Mrs. John Britt are lovely with beds of iris, camellias, and azaleas.

On South Elm street the grounds around the M. S. Bates home are at their best. A few of the late blooming daffodils are still to be seen and colorful borders of iris and azaleas accent the house.

The attractive new office of Dr. Jim McKenzie has plantings of azaleas across the north side.

There are also colorful plots of azaleas at the E. P. Young, Sr. and

Lilac Club Is One of Older Groups in Hope

In the spring of 1940 a few Hope women met at the home of Mrs. Floyd Porterfield and organized the Lilac Garden Club. Through the years we have met regularly once each month during the spring, winter, and fall, adjourning during the summer. This club has taken an active part in all civic beautification projects and has been a source of pleasure to its members.

Mrs. Floyd Porterfield was the first president, 1940-41; Mrs. A. E. Slusser, 1942-43; Mrs. W. C. Bunn, 1943-45; Mrs. B. L. Rettig, 1945-46; Mrs. Fonzie Moses, 1947-48; Mrs. A. E. Slusser, 1948-49; Mrs. B. L. Rettig, 1949-50; Mrs. Harry Whitworth, 1950-52; Mrs. Slusser, 1952-53; Mrs. K. E. Ambrose, 1954-55; Mrs. Rettig, 1955-56; Mrs. Lloyd Kinard, 1956-57.

The Lilac club still has several of the charter members; however, death claimed Mrs. J. A. Henry, Mrs. A. L. Black, and Mrs. W. Q. Warren.

One of the most outstanding entertainments of the Lilac club was an Antique Tea, give in the home of Mrs. B. L. Rettig. Although the day was cold and ice hung heavy from the trees, many came from other cities to meet the state president, Mrs. J. V. Patterson, and see the display of antiques and quaintly dressed members.

Since the organization of the city Federation of Garden Clubs, the Lilac club has been active in all meetings and projects. The Lilac club has also taken part in the state federation conventions and interests. Mrs. B. L. Rettig served as city federation consultant.

Federated Club To Meet

The Anna P. Strong Federated Club will hold its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Ellen McCollum Friday, April 6, 1956, at 7 p.m.

Mr. Clyde Trotter of Little Rock, Arkansas, combined business with his Easter weekend visit with his mother, Mrs. Cassie Trotter. He left Monday morning enroute home.

NOW HE'LL REACH 50 — Harvey Leewright, 71, loves children — and teaching. That's why he's so happy at being re-elected teacher-principal of Houston elementary school in Sulphur Springs, Tex., for the 1956-57 term. Now he'll be able to achieve his dream, teaching for 50 years. Leewright, who starts his golden anniversary as a teacher next year, believes in today's children. He says he's never had a "bad boy or girl in my school." He's shown with two of his students, Wilma Roberts and John Buchanan.

Buddy Rogers Has Gone to Acting Again

By BOB THOMA

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — If the National League season were to open tomorrow, Jackie Robinson would be in the starting lineup as the regular third baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

That is the opinion of Jackie Robinson himself. The veteran but still agile infielder, minus any trace of conceit or egotism, frankly stated today that as far as he's concerned, he has beaten out Randy Jackson for the job and expects the official announcement to come within the next few days.

"I don't know how Walter Alston feels about it," the 37-year-old Robby said. "The skipper hasn't said anything either way. But the way I feel, I've won the job. I'm not taking anything away from Randy. I've got a lot of respect for his ability, but I've got more respect for my own."

"Nobody can beat me out the way I've been playing this spring. I'm in good shape. My legs feel strong and I'm free around the chest. I'm swinging real good and meeting the ball well. I think I'm approaching the kind of baseball I played three, four years ago. If I can continue to do that, no matter how well Jackson plays, he can't beat me out. Barring injury, I don't see how they can keep me out of the lineup."

"It's all up to Walt, of course," he said. "I'll do anything, play anywhere he wants me to. He's the boss."

How did Alston feel about all this?

"I'm still undecided," the manager said with a smile.

He and his associates have a full program planned. They next project may be an underwater subject to be filmed in the West Indies or another Western to be shot in Mexico.

More acting for him? "Could be."

Before last season, Schoendienst was best known for one of three reasons. They were:

1. He was one of the major league's few switch hitters.

2. He won the 1950 All-Star Game for the National League with the 14th-inning run.

3. He batted directly ahead of Stan Musial in the St. Louis Cardinals' batting order.

The fact that he hit .303, .342 and .315 in the three previous campaigns was of no great import. His brilliant performance at second base also was taken for granted.

Then came the switch in 1955. Red slumped. He started wearing glasses while batting. His average dropped to .288.

Study Ways to Strengthen Farm Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is taking a new look at the legal authority it already has, seeking means to strengthen its farm program this election year in the event no new farm law is enacted.

Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse said the department "obviously is taking a new look" at the whole farm program to determine what more might be done to help improve the farm situation.

No decisions on possible new actions have yet been made, he said, but he indicated officials are weighing carefully steps that might be taken to hold down production of livestock feed grains already in surplus.

The administration has been pinning its hopes for improving economic conditions in agriculture on a proposed $1,200,000,000 soil bank program. Payments would be made to farmers for taking land out of production of crops already in surplus.

Agriculture Department officials said the possibility of a soil bank program helping farmers this year now appears "very slim."

They based this appraisal both on the possibility that President Eisenhower may veto the pending farm bill and on the shortness of time for putting a soil bank plan into effect this year.

The bill as it now stands provides for the soil bank, but also would restore higher, rigid price supports and other features strongly opposed by the administration. Secretary Benson has predicted a bill with the high supports would be vetoed.

The bill is now being re drafted by the Senate-House conference committee, which will resume its work tomorrow. Both House and Senate must vote on the committee's compromise recommendations after Congress reconvenes April 9.

Rep. Cooley (D-NC) chairman of the House conferees, said at his Nashville, N.C., home he expects a Republican move to fix price supports on basic crops at 87½ per cent of parity instead of the 80 per cent provided in the farm bill. Parity is a price determined under farm law to be fair to the farmer in relation to his costs.

Plunkett Jarrell Sells at Pine Bluff

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Plunkett-Jarrell Grocer Co. today announced the sale of its Pine Bluff branch to Ritchie Grocer Co. of Pine Bluff and El Dorado. Greely Watson, president of Plunkett-Jarrell, said the sale was made to help confine the company "to a narrower geographical area."

Sale price was not disclosed.

Watson said the "increasing of costs and decreasing margin of profit" in the wholesale grocery business "convinced the management . . . that operations should be confined . . . to a closer-knit organization."

The sale will be effective Monday, Watson said.

Battle of the Arkansas Is Far From Lost

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle of the Arkansas River is far from being lost even though President Eisenhower has reiterated opposition to the Dardanelle and Eufaula dams.

The President's stand meant no recommendation to Congress for funds for the projects.

But it doesn't mean that Congress can't or won't vote money on its own authority.

Either chamber can write into the appropriation bill funds to start the Arkansas River projects, and prospects now seem favorable that the Senate will take such action.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) is a member of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee handling the bill and in a good position to convince his colleagues to override the President's adverse recommendation. And Sen. Ellender (D-La), chairman of the subcommittee, is favorable to such water projects.

Last but not least, Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz), chairman of the full Senate Appropriations Committee, sat in on the Arkansas River hearings recently. He indicated he favors the Arkansas projects. At least, he said he was "surprised" at the President's position.

The situation isn't quite so good in the House. Generally the House Appropriations Committee seldom accepts any item not previously proposed in the budget. This means that money for Arkansas River projects most likely would have to be added on the floor, if the House is to vote money for them.

This is a little more difficult to do. It also has this added hazard: If the move fails, then when the bill goes to a Senate-House conference for a compromise the House conferees might feel they were bound by the adverse vote.

However, Reps. Trimble, Hays and Norrell, Arkansas Democrats, haven't given up hope.

of 2,000 to 3,000 to jam Tyronza—a town of some 500—for a day's program devoted to inspirational phases of medicine.

Dr. McDaniel, President of the Arkansas State Medical Society, was in Washington recently for a medical meeting and lined up a little program agent. He hopes to have Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) and Reps. Gathings (D-Ark) and Judd (R-Minn) on hand.

Winthrop Rockefeller, chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Commission, is billed as principal speaker April 22 at the annual branch of the Arkansas State Society in Washington.

At that meeting Mark Hollabaugh of Marshall, Ark., is slated to be announced as new society president, succeeding Cndr. Scott McCusker.

Hollabaugh, who has made a fine record with the Anti-trust Division of the Justice Department, is planning to leave that post shortly and become chief counsel for the Senate Monopoly subcommittee headed by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo).
